national and international affairs and gave his impressions of the significance of these events relative to the current world situation.

Some of the major topics discussed by Mr. Cronkite were; the space race, policies of the Kennedy administration, the heavy burdens of the presidency of the U. S., possibilities of the 1964 election, and general comments on the role the U.S. must play in the current world situation.

The four Greek sororities on campus have announced their candidates for Homecoming Queen. The queen is to be chosen November 2, and she will reign over the Homecoming activities.

Alpha Sigma Alpha's candidate is Anne Chick from Shenandoah, Iowa. Miss Chick is 20 years old and a junior majoring in elementary education.

Elaine Cummings will be sponsored by Delta Zeta. Miss Cummings is from Bedford, Iowa. She is 20 years old, a junior and is a music major.

Representing Phi Mu will be Ellen Grube of Maryville, Missouri. Miss Grube is a 19 year old sophomore majoring in English and French.

Sigma Sigma Sigma will be running Oriana Schmitz from Carroll, Iowa. Miss Schmitz is 21, a senior, business administration major.

All queen candidates are requested to meet for MISSOURIAN publicity pictures at 4 p. m., Thursday, Oct. 19, room 109, Colden Hall.

English Dept. to Reorganize Fresh Comp.

For the first time Freshmen Composition classes will be sectioned according to ability in the school year of 1962-3.

A plan for this curriculum was approved by the faculty at a meeting Oct. 5. Several years' study by the English department and by the faculty council have preceded the plan according to Dr. Frank Grube, chairman, English.

Prospective students will be given an English test approved by Missouri U. during the summer. The testing is part of a statewide co-ordinated program, and the tests will be given in several places in Missouri.

Entering freshmen at NWMSC will be divided into three groups according to a division of test scores based on MU norms. One group will take English 10, a class that will meet five times a week for three hours credit.

A larger group will take English 11; however, this will be a different course than is now offered.

A third group will be excused from the first semester's work and go directly into English 12. A new course, English 85, will be established for this group second semester.

The Eng. 10 program aims at helping the poorly prepared student to come up to college standards. Such programs were on the increase in U.S. colleges since WW II and until 1960.

In 1956 the University of Illinois announced that in 1960 it would no longer offer remedial work in English, that appli-

Campus Bowl Action To Begin October 24

Attention will be centered in CH 213 on Tuesday, October 24, at 4 o'clock as the new Campus Bowl competition begins.

A significant change this year is that campus bowl is on a challenge basis. The winning team will compete until defeated or for three consecutive contests. At this time the team will be retired undefeated and placed at the end of the list of the 13 competing teams.

Last year's highest total scoring team — APO-GSS — will begin the round as this year's base team. Members are Richard Smith, captain; Phil Stone, Ruth Ann Elliott, Julia Henry, and Marilyn Wallis, alternate.

Challenging them in this first match is Phi Lambda Chi. Members of this team include Stan VanderWerf, captain; Don LeMaster, Ron Guthrey, Ken Sands, and Nurettin Uzunoglu, alternate.

All other rules will be carried over from last year's play. Briefly, the contest will be divided into two 20-minute periods during which the master of ceremonies will be alternate.

There will be a 10-point toss-up question and a following bonus question of a given number of points. A team member must buzz to answer a toss-up and there can be no discussion; However, discussion within a time limit will be allowed on bonus questions, but the answer must be agreed upon. If not, the captain's answer will be accepted.

Questions have been authenticated through the facilities of Encyclopedia Britannica and Webster's Unabridged Dictionary.

Students Want Remedy For Lengthy Lines

Pros and cons have been voiced toward the recent Senate recommendation to the food committee of the Union Board that there be an extension of time on present serving hours in the cafeteria.

Long Lines

From the students viewpoint, they want a fifteen-minute extension at each meal. The "line" problem is great this year. They suggest that two sets of help be hired, thus providing more jobs for those who need work.

Another suggestion is that serving time be moved ahead fifteen minutes if the length can't be increased. They state that very few eat in the first fifteen minutes anyway. The students especially suggest that Saturday breakfast be served at a later time.

'Not Possible'

Mrs. M. T. Sheldon, representing the food department, would like to accommodate the students, but she commented that this is an impossible task. Her help has to go to class too. She states, "Only five students can stay in the morning to do dishes, and they stay until 9 or 9:30. If students would not wait until 7:25, they could get in without waiting."

The cooks start preparing dinner immediately after breakfast. Mrs. Sheldon knows that noon presents a great line problem, but again, most of her workers have 1 o'clock classes.

In commenting on hiring more student help, she says "I believe we are hiring to the greatest extent now. There has been some difficulty in working hours and schedules. A new dining hall will help but it is still in the future."

Warrensburg Librarian Sees Microfilm System

Mr. William A. Stanton, librarian at CMSC, Warrensburg, visited the college library on October 7, to see the microfilm operation in the textbook room.

NWMSC is the only college in the area that uses the microfilm system for textbook circulation, thus setting an example for other colleges.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Message From Pres. Merrigan

Each of you is aware that the college is rapidly expanding, in number of students, number of faculty members, and number of buildings. The construction of new dorms is progressing rapidly. Plans to meet future increases are being discussed by the administration. Yet with this growth have come many new problems. Perhaps one of the more serious of these is the weakness of representation from the student body in the student government.

In order to overcome this difficulty, I have appointed an advisory cabinet composed of three independents and one Greek to work with me in finding problems facing students in any area of campus life; bringing them to the attention of the Student Senate and the faculty; and seeking a solution. The members of the cabinet are Jim Meadows, Richard T. Smith, Tom Whitney, and Don LeMasters.

Working in conjunction with the Senate, faculty, and Union Board, the advisory cabinet has made several important contributions to the welfare of the students. The new code of motor vehicle regulations, drawn up by the cabinet, was put into effect this year. Problems relating to changes in the initiation of freshmen were discussed by the cabinet. The cabinet has been and is presently working toward solving the phone dilemma in the women's dormitories. They are now conferring with the telephone company about possible solutions. The cabinet hopes that in the near future a central switchboard for the campus will be installed.

The representatives of the Student Government Association, the advisory cabinet, and I will be happy to hear from any student about problems that should come before the student administration. We will do all in our power to promote the interests of the individual student and to provide this college with progressive leadership.

Joe Merrigan, student body president

Letter to the Editor

For the past couple of weeks the word has been, "Independents, Organize!" I fail to understand the basic meaning behind this statement, since I have always been led to believe that independents on a campus were just that, independent. No organization, no dues to be paid, no leader or leaders. It would seem to me that if independents organize, they would no longer be independent. I'm sure that the goal of this proposed organization is not to develop a mass of Greek haters, but rather to (quote) "have a say in the school" (unquote).

I've also heard that the Greeks run this school. That really gives me a laugh. There's only one leader ask for him by name. I believe his name is Jones. The people that have set themselves up as leaders of the independents, when I talk to them, really don't exactly know what they are going to do when they do get organized. They give me the impression that they are really going to set the world on fire. I would request that one of the leaders submit a rebuttal to this letter in next week's NW Missourian and tell me exactly what the heck they have in mind. I'm all ears.

THE STROLLER

The Stroller got off to a good start last Friday by breaking a mirror, but he topped it all off by walking under a ladder in the Administration Building later that day. Maybe it was the effects of Walk-Out Day (or maybe the after effects) that had him in such a stupor, but when Friday arrived, he just wasn't the same old guy, and he fell prey to the thirteenth! . . . Some classes were pretty tough that day, too, after the unexpected (?) Wednesday holiday.

Thursday proved to be most interesting (Don't say it!) . . .

Many instructors freed their "slaves" from their attendance bonds, and, as a result, the Den was jam-packed. Some lucky students had no classes at all!

There has been much pro and con conversation concerning the new style Walk-Out Day initiated this year. The Stroller wonders just what reactions were had by the freshmen involved. We old pros have our ideas, but the real answer should come from the "greenies." In contrast to the well-worn phrase, most of the walkers proved to be riders, as the students found access to numerous automobiles with which to "drag Main."

Short Two Hours

The morning program was well-received from comments heard by The Stroller, but the audience seemed to be astonished when the able em-cee announced the presentations were through. (It was a short two hours.) One of the acts, if learned by Greek pledges, would be most helpful lighting "fags" for active frat members. The possible results, however, are so great that it might not prove to be such a good idea . . . Some eager Bearcats headed straight for the Den after the variety show and managed to enter the dark domain, only to be herded out again by someone who had neglected to lock the door to their favorite haunt.

Interruption

The planned evening of Walk-Out Day was slightly disrupted when the local fire department was called to an area quite known around campus — "the Buchanan Street Library." The flurry of cars and people was mainly composed of students who just happened to be on the scene, having left their "books" to view the event. It seems that many guys would rather "study" than ask a girl to the evening dance.

Walk-Out Day

Reflections and Impressions

As Seen by a Freshman . . . By Carolyn Enis

Ring the bell during the eight o'clock class left a large percentage of the students at loose ends. Walks were jammed with men and women heading in different directions. Many didn't attend the variety show.

A better day could not have been chosen for this tradition. The weather was the best Maryville had seen in days. The small number of organized activities were held in the auditorium and the armory.

The variety show went for quality not quantity, and finished at 10:30 a.m. Then the students were left at their leisure. Downtown became a congested mass of collegians milling on the side-walks and in the stores.

At 1:00 o'clock a few of the NWMSC students re-assembled for the Cell Block 7 who gave a one hour show. Following this a snake dance, led by the Freshmen Class officers, slithered its way down town. Approximately forty students took part. When the dance reached that down town area, it amused itself by halting traffic and causing the shoppers to plaster themselves against the nearest wall.

The same dixieland band played at the Walk-Out dance, lasting from 8 till 11 at the armory. Penny night was postponed till a later date. (The day was like a Saturday in the middle of the week.)

"Twisted" Opinion

When an outsider, a member of the Cell Block 7, was asked, "What's your opinion of the Twist, he replied, "You kids 'are nuts, but it looks great."

As Seen by a Senior

By Stu Cline

This senior's impression of walk-out day was one of remorse. An old-timer always hates to lose part of the past. Always before walk-out day was looked forward to as the end of Freshman initiation, and that long awaited chance to gain revenge for the M-clubs antics. The entire student body participated, in one way or another. At the end of the day the freshmen were no longer considered green, and everyone was in high spirits.

This year a change was made. Walk-Out Day no longer had any connection with the freshmen or initiation. It was just a day away from the books.

The outcome was: A large portion of the student body returning to the pad till noon; a small variety show with the same amount of enthusiasm; an ill-fated snake dance (50 out of 850 freshmen) with no apparent destination; some students in the library, others spending the morning shopping; organizations getting up their own parties (more power to them); The C.C. providing the afternoons activities, and all in all an entire student body all going different directions.

The concert and dance by the Cell Block Seven was a rocking success. However, they would have been a success anytime. The part of the day that we the students were responsible for was sad. To half-way organize such an event is worse than no organization at all. And that's what we had.

A walk-out day with no initiation is like a peace treaty without a war. Nothing really gained.

Band Routines Color Mid-Points

A routine based on "School Days" was presented by the NWMSC marching band at the Rolla-Maryville game, Saturday, October 14. It included an addition problem, "Ten Little Indians," an alphabet selection; and a song of "The Little Red Schoolhouse."

The first band presentation of the season was centered around the song, "Hey, Look Me Over," which was given at the Fort Hayes game.

Mr. Ward Rounds, the band director, extends an invitation to students interested in playing in the concert band to see him soon, as they will be unable to participate in the spring tour if they have not played in the fall classes.

Miners Nip 'Cats 20-13

Defensive collapse spelled defeat for Northwest State College as the Rolla Miners ran rampant Saturday night and dropped the Bearcats 20-13 on Memorial Field for the first Rolla win in MIAA Conference play in two years.

Coach Earl Baker said this morning, "It looks like we forgot what it takes to tackle a man. Time and again, we'd have a man stopped and he would gain five more yards."

"We are going to become aggressive defensively, or else..."

MSC Defense Folds

Taking advantage of the MSC collapse, a Miner backfield composed mostly of substitute backs spent most of its time in the Bearcat secondary. Paced by the loop's leading rusher, Paul Wiegard, who picked up 115 yards, Rolla rushed for 343 yards on the ground.

A third-string left halfback running at the fullback slot, Olson, rushed for 89 yards and one touchdown. Another substitute halfback, running at fullback, who had carried only once previously this season, Gary Voorhis, rushed for 49 yards and the other Miner TD.

Pat O'Mealy, a senior halfback, boosted the Rolla attack with field goals of 12 and 18 yards and kicked both extra points.

Williams, Daniels Star

Only bright spots of the Maryville offense were freshman Prime Williams and sophomore Don Daniels. Williams exploded on several occasions, including one 26-yard touchdown run, and picked up 119 yards. Daniels raced 63 yards for a TD and covered 92 yards during the evening.

Chalk Talk . . . Bob Cobb

We're sorry to report that cross-country competition has been dropped from the NWMSC varsity athletic program. Coach Ryland Milner said that the sport was discontinued because of lack of enthusiasm and a meager turn-out for the squad. A cross-country team must have five runners on the team for conference play, and only four athletes signed up for the squad; thus, the sport was abolished from the list.

According to MIAA statistics, Kirksville leads our league in just about everything except stolen towels. The Bulldogs, as of Oct. 7, owned a three won—one lost mark in non league play. Springfield with a 2-1-1 slate trailed, next came Cape and NWMSC with identical two-two records. Warrensburg stood with one win, two losses, while Rolla had a one win and three loss standing.

Wrestling Next

Dale Hansen, who looks after men's intramurals, informs that touch football has been a successful venture this season with lots of interest on the part of the participants. He added that intramural wrestling is next on the calendar of events.

Rough Schedule

Speaking of the Grunt n' Groan sport, varsity wrestling mentor, Dr. H. D. Peterson, reminds us that this year's wrestling schedule should be the toughest season since the sport began big-league participation five years ago. The home wrestling slate for the 1961-'62 season reads as follows:

Dec. 8	William Jewell
Dec. 13	Tarkio College
Dec. 15	Simpson College
Dec. 18	Wentworth Mil. Acad.
Jan. 5	Central Mo. State
Jan. 11	Kansas State
Feb. 7	Iowa State
Feb. 17	Fort Hays State
Feb. 23	University of Missouri

Add Two

While schedules are in mention, Athletic Director Milner relates that the varsity basketball agenda has been filled.

Added to the list of roundball opponents for this season are Nebraska Wesleyan and William Penn College, of Oskaloosa, Iowa.

The undefeated NWMSC Bees swamped the William Jewell B-team 28-7, October 16, on the Maryville gridiron.
